Steve, we believe that the date "8/11/2015" is some kind of macro that gives documents the date that they are printed out, not the date that they were created. Can you confirm that with Weston? Thanks - k

The attached is the schedule that was created before I left on vacation. Apparently there is some concern about the date and version on the previous submitted schedule that I provided sometime after Aug 10.

Also, this is different than the schedule we have in the record which I have attached. The question I have to answer relates to the date on this schedule of 8/11 which is after the event. Was there an original to this document prepared earlier? Was this a derivative from the xcel spreadsheet? Just remember that these will be scrutinized looking for this kind of discrepancies.

Thanks

Hi David and Steve,

Here is the schedule that Steve and I discussed and I had created on 7/28/2015.

Thank You,
Elliott
